ALUFIM-OT PRESENT THOUGHT-PROVOKING PLAY

By Sheva Berezin, G 10

This past Tuesday and Wednesday nights Alufim-Alufot presented the moving play of "I Never Saw Another Butterfly". It follows the story of the girl Raja (Tammy Nussbaum) who is a prisoner in the concentration camp Terezin. We see flashbacks of her life back home in Prague with her mother (Debbie Rapp) her father (Jeffrey Moskovitz), Paul (David Goldstein), and Aunt Vera (Monica Kriger).

It also follows her growing relationships with her fellow inmates in Terezin.

The other characters are Irena (Rita Ackerman), Renka (Stacy Klein), a voice on the loudspeaker, (Charles Schechter), Eicker (Dassée David), children (Nechama Zibitt, Benjy Chesir, Lisa Wahrhaftig, and Benjamin Waltuch). There is also Irca (Chanie Fruchter), the Rabbi (Neil Torczyner) and Hanya (Barry Gelman).

We should all remember the victims of the Holocaust that the characters portray, especially during the period before Tisha B'Av.

MORASHANIKS PRAISED IN BLOOD DRIVE PUBLICITY

A letter to the editor of the Wayne County newspaper praised Morashniks for their participation in the community blood drive last summer.

Published in appreciation for the immense support given to the drive by our Morasha contributors, the letter included the names of all the blood donors.

"We are enormously pleased with the support we have gotten from Camp Morasha, especially considering they do not directly benefit from contributions to our region," wrote the chairman.

(How's that for a Kiddush Hashem?)

This year's Blood Drive will be held in the Mercazia on Tuesday, August 6. Further information will be forthcoming.

TORAH TALK

By Rabbi Zvi Grumet, Ed. Staff

איכא אלא לבדי טרחא וי

וראבא

How will I alone be able to handle your burdens, bothers, and fights?

With these words Mosheh introduces the need for judges to help govern B'nei Yisroel. Yet the question that bothered Rashi should bother us all. Do you mean that Moshe, who took them out of Mitzrayim, split the sea and brought them the Torah wasn't able to handle the court by himself?

A closer look at the posuk reveals an answer. It wasn't that Mosheh couldn't handle judging B'nei Yisroel. It was their "Tarchachem, masachem, and revchem- their fighting with each other and bitterness that bothered him. "I can't stop hate," said Moshe- "only the people themselves can stop it." Indeed it was this bitterness and Sinat Chinam that Chazal tell us destroyed the Beit Hamikdash, and it is no wonder that this posuk is read to the tune of Eichah.

Rabbi A.I. Kook used to say that if the Beit Hamikdash were destroyed because of Sinat Chinom, then it can only be rebuilt on the foundation of Ahavat Chinom. What is Ahavat Chinom? It is loving another Jew for absolutely no reason at all, except for the fact that he is a Jew.

Easier said than done! How do we achieve Ahavat Chinom? A careful look at another posuk might give us a clue.

B'nei Yisroel have been compared to the stars. Do you what's special about a star? From far away, it looks like a little dot of light, almost invisible. But as you get closer, you first begin to see how beautiful, bright, and warm it is. So too with Am Yisroel. When we keep our distance from each other, all we see are a jumble of faces, so that each person is almost invisible. However, as we get closer, we see the beauty and warmth of each person, shining brightly like the midday sun.

Let us all contribute our efforts so that Ahavat Chinom will replace Sinat Chinom, and the sadness of Eichah replaced by singing "L'shana Hazot B'yerushalayim."

PARSHAT DEVORIM AND TISHA B'AV

By Ari Marcus, H.S. Koilel

The Gemara in Sanhedrin asks why the second posuk of Megilat Eichah uses a redundant lashon. The Gemara explains why the lashon of B'chiah- crying- is repeated in the posuk- "Bocheh tivcheh B'layah" תִּבְכֶּה וְתִבְכֶּה בַּלַּיָּה

"Two weepings... one for the first Beit Hamikdash and one for the second. The Gemara proceeds to explain the reason for these tragedies which occurred on Tisha B'Av. Hashem tells B'nei Yisroel that because you cried for nothing on the night of Tet B'Av (when the meraglim came back), I will give you reason to cry on this night for generations to come.

The following question is raised: If B'nei Yisroel cried only once on the night of Tet B'Av during the Maaseh Meraglim, why then did Hashem decree two tragedies on Tisha B'Av? The G'lili Zahav answers that the second B'chiah (crying) is a result of a B'chiah of B'nei Yisroel mentioned in this week's parsha. In Devarim 1:45, Moshe tells us of the reaction of B'nei Yisroel to their defeat at the hands of the Emori- V'tishvu v'tivchu lifnei Hashem." We know now the two times at which B'nei Yisroel cried and therefore were later punished- one when the meraglim reported and once when they failed to go to Eretz Yisroel and were defeated by the Emori.

It is apparent that each of the tragedies corresponds to its respective posuk. In reference to the first time that B'nei Yisroel cried, the posuk is V'yivchu Haam" while here the posuk says "V'yivchu lifnei Hashem." The destruction of Bayit Rishon was not Lifnei Hashem" because B'nei Yisroel worshipped Avodah Zarah. However the Churban Bayit Sheni was "lifnei Hashem" in that B'nei Yisroel were Sinomrei Torah U'Mitzvot but they "angered the king in his own palace" through Sinat Chinam.

Although Tisha B'Av has been a day of Tzoret for B'nei Yisroel we know that it will eventually become a Yom Tov. We must realize that it is our own actions which can bring this change about, and each of us must therefore do our best to bring Moshiach.

TISHA B'AV

TISHA B'AV OBSERVANCE POSTPONED UNTIL SUNDAY

FROM MEDRASH EICHAH.....

This year, since Tisha B'Av falls on Shabbat, its observance is postponed until Sunday. On Shabbat we have meat and wine as usual, but we are careful to finish Shalosh Seudot when it is still daytime. We do not say Pirkei Avot on Shabbos afternoon. At night we remove our shoes after Borchu. The curtain is removed from the Aron and the lights are dimmed to a minimum. We say Borai M'orei Hoaish, but Havdalah is not said until the fast is over on Sunday night.

Just as when Tisha B'Av falls on any other day of the week, we don't have meat or wine after the fast, but by Monday morning everything is permitted.

As always, on Tisha B'Av everyone who is old enough and can does not eat or drink. Those who do not have to fast should not eat more than necessary. Chazal emphasize that fasting in itself is of little value without accompanying it with T'shuva.

We do not shower or wash past the knuckles (except to remove dirt), wear shoes that are made of even a little bit of leather, or use oils, cosmetics, lotions (except deodorants if necessary), or brush one's teeth.

Since studying Torah makes us happy, we are only allowed to learn those parts of Torah that are relevant to Tisha B'Av and those parts of Gemora that deal with the Churban Bayit- destruction of the Temple.

One does not greet another on Tisha B'Av. Until noon we sit on the floor. Boys do not put on Tefillin until Minchah. We are careful to spend our time in such a way so that we should not come to levity.

Let us keep in mind throughout the day that whoever mourns properly on Tisha B'Av will be rewarded by being privileged to participate in rejoicing over the rebuilding of the Beit Hamikdash. May that time be very soon.

L'shana Haba B'Yerushalayim.

HASHEM HEARS RACHEL'S ENTREATIES

After the Churban, Rachel Imanu came before Hashem, and said: 'Ribbono Shel Olam, You know that Your servant Yaakov loved me dearly, and worked for my father for seven years on my behalf. And when the seven years were over and the time for the wedding had come, I heard that my father did not want to give me to him, but rather my sister Leah. I told Yaakov of this and gave him a sign so that he would know which sister they were giving him, so that my father would not be able to do this.

"Then I felt regret, and had pity on my sister Leah. In order that she not be humiliated, I taught her the signs which Yaakov had given me, so that Yaakov would not know that she was Leah. And I spoke for her, so that Yaakov would not recognize her voice, and I was not jealous.

"Ribbono Shel Olam, I am flesh and blood, mere earth and ashes, and yet I was not jealous of my sister. You are a merciful G-d. Why have You been jealous that B'nei Yisroel served idols? How could this image, which has no reality, hurt You? Yet through this You have exiled my children, and the enemy has killed all that they wanted."

Hashem took pity and said: "Rachel, for your sake I will return Israel to their land, to Eretz Yisrael."

SOME CHRONOLOGY

On the seventh of Av the enemy entered the Beit Hamikdash. They ate, drank, and defiled it on the seventh and eighth. On the ninth, they set fire and it continued burning until sunset of the tenth.

The reason that the fast was not designated the tenth of Av- even though most of the Beit Hamikdash was burnt then- is that the beginning of the catastrophe is considered to be more tragic.

STAFFERS OF THE ISSUE...

MORASHA COUPLE NO. 4 RABBI ABRAHAM AND JOYCE WAHRHAFTIG

The earliest Morasha couple- Number 4- on this year's staff is Rabbi Abraham and Joyce Wahrhaftig. Joyce has been in camp for 19 years and Abie 18.

Joyce was Morasha's first librarian when the library was a collection of books in a trailer standing near the dining room. Abie had been Division Head of Ilanot and Shtilim and was one of the first Color War Generals (vs. Shmuel Ottensosser, father of Gilad and Yaakov).

Joyce's parents, Chana and Dov Wolf were members of the founding staff of Morasha. Now Joyce and Abie are accompanied in camp by Lise in Alufot, Michal an Older Shtili, and Yaakov and Yael in Day Camp.

Rabbi Wahrhaftig is Deqn of Students at the Yeshiva of Flatbush High School. Here he now serves as Assistant to the Director. Joyce is a co-teacher in the early childhood program at the JCC of Flatbush.

Abie's philosophy of the greatest change at Morasha over the years: "Ein Chadash Tachat Hashemesh." "We still have the nice people and the rebels, the cooperators and the underground, the good and the not yet so good- only more of everything." What would they like to see added to Morasha? "A swimming pool," they both agreed.

Abie emphasized the advantages of developing the Bashert relationship at camp: "You can really get to know a person in the camp set-up. You can see them at their best and worst, evening and morning, in all types of situations."

Joyce offered a novel approach to Bashert seeking: "Bring one with you when you come to camp."R.S.

SHALHEVET SPOTLIGHTS.....

RABBI DOVID AND FRIEDA WADLER NEWCOMERS TO CAMP MORASHA

SHALHEVET is delighted to welcome two newcomers to this year's staff, Rabbi Dovid and Frieda Wadler.

Dovid is the Division Head for Ilanot Boys and Rosh of Machzor Bet. Frieda is a valuable addition to the educational staff. The Wadler family also includes baby Shlomo, daycampers Tamar and Elisheva, and big brother Donny.

Rabbi Wadler serves as Assistant Principal of the Yeshiva of Flatbush elementary school. He achieved Semicha at Mesivtha Tifereth Yerushalayim and holds an E.B.D. (Everything But Dissertation) degree from Yeshiva University.

Frieda, a domestic engineer, attended Michlala and holds an M.A. in special education from Adelphi University.

Current residents of Flatbush, the Wadlers had devoted four years to Jewish education in Ottawa, Canada. Before coming to Morasha, Dovid was head of chinuch at Camp Tagola.

Frieda and Dovid both agree that Morasha is "a unique place to work and live permeated with an aveerah of Torah and Yirat Shomayim." "Appreciate the experience of being in Camp Morasha, enjoy it and grow with it," they advise SHALHEVET readers.

HIGH SCHOOL, COLLEGE KOLLEL WIN AGAIN

By D. Kollel Kommentator

This past Motzei Shabbat, College Kollel defeated Machon 45-43 in a thrilling basketball game. Kollel jumped out to an early lead behind the hot shooting of Aaron Seievan (11 points) and the half ended with Kollel ahead 27-17.

In the second half Machon using strategy engineered by Steve Richter took a three point lead with two minutes left.

Yoni Weber, leading all scorers with 14 points, scored the winning basket with three seconds left in the game.

Dovid Kupchik coached and Michael Yalkut was the statistician.

The High School Kollel defeated Alufim on Wednesday as they moved to a 54-51 basketball victory. The Alufim made a valiant attempt to stay close using a full-court press, but Kollel points came pouring in.

Barry Finkelstein flew past the Alufim repeatedly, pressing and scoring at will and leading all scorers with 22 points. David Guedalia also lent a hand for Kollel, leading in rebounding and scoring 10 points.

STAFF TEAM PICKS UP THIRD WIN

The Morasha Staff Basketball Team picked up its third consecutive victory by defeating Seneca 53-47.

Morasha dominated the boards and built up a 44-20 lead by the fourth quarter. However Seneca got hot and cut the lead to 46-41, but that was as close as they came as Morasha converted two one and ones. Morasha was led by Moshe Orlian with 25 points and Gary Beitler with 10.

The entire Morasha team deserves a Yasher Koach for behaving like true D'nei Torah in the face of hostile referees and opponents.

GIRLS LEARN TO SAVE LIVES

In keeping with the theme of Hashomer Achi Anochi, all of Girls' Campus was taught practical ways to fulfill "Lo taamod al dam reecha" - you should not stand idly by as your friend is in trouble.

On Tuesday and Wednesday Nitzanim, Shti-lim, Ilanot, and Alufot were shown films from the American Red Cross that taught them how to help a drowning person- without ever getting wet! Then they discussed how they could do this using the set-up at Lake Morasha. All girls at Morasha now know how to help in an emergency. Do you?D.C.Z.

INTERBUNK CONTEST

We knew last week's Interbunk was a little harder than usual, but didn't think that no bunk could win. The Office Staff, Boys' HC Office Staff, YP Kollel, and Older Day Camp (with a little outside help) were the only winners. The answers: shortage, belongings, shorthanded, longitude, prolong, shortening, shorthand, longshoreman, furlong, and shortcut.

This week: There are at least 15 words of four letters or more in the word ORANGE. How many can you find? Answer by Mon. 10 A.M.
