THIS PAST WEEK AT CAMP MORASHA

What a special and spectacular second week at Camp Morasha!

On Sunday, the entire girls campus participated in a fun-filled and action-packed program known as "Studio 247," an all-day fitness event. They competed in a myriad of games and were challenged during a plethora of specialty clinics. The energy and emotions were palpable as campers eagerly soaked up every manic minute. It was perspiration with a purpose, as the campers glowed with sweat equity. Healthy body, healthy mind!

On Monday, boys campus participated in the always popular FIFA day, a wild and intense World Cup-like soccer tournament. Teams bravely battled with desire and class, using their feet and heads to move the ball all over the field. Many scored a goal but, more importantly, everyone achieved the collective goal of participating with maximum effort and respect. Suffice it to say, when it comes to soccer at Morasha, everyone gets a real “kick” out it!

Tuesday was trip day and as always and Morasha did not disappoint. The whole camp traveled to Dorney Park for a wet and wild day trip that will not soon be forgotten. If amusement parks are intended to amuse, then mission accomplished. It literally was a roller coaster of a day, with campers fully enjoying the exhilaration of non-stop fun. Now we only have one problem: how do we top that? Stay tuned.

Wednesday was a jam-packed day of magical Morasha activities that kept campers active and smiling all day long. Sometimes just being in camp — in the normal groove — is the best part of the summer, like hanging with friends while keeping busy and having new experiences. That’s what we love to see.

On Thursday, the entire camp participated in the legendary and illustrious Morasha event simply known as Shiria. It was Boys Campus vs Girls Campus. (As usual, Day Camp declared itself the winner!). The evening was filled with mellifluous music, sweet singing and copious kavod. The heart-warming harmonies soared throughout the Mercazia as campers wowed each other with gorgeous renditions of magnificent tunes.

Of course, we send our sincere thanks to Morasha’s tremendous and talented “tech team” including Jonathan Kazlow, Calev Koppel, and Daniel Schein. (Remember, gratitude is an attitude!). We also thank everyone who sang with all of their might all night or otherwise helped to make this year’s Shiria the best ever!

On Friday, Morasha had another very special event: a blood drive.

No matter your type, we believe every drop has the potential to help others in need. (When it comes to blood drives, it’s all about the vein and not being vain.) What a wonderful way of ending the week, with acts of selflessness and compassion. We are all blood brothers and sisters and we owe it to each other to keep the positive vibes and chesed pumping. A beautiful way to start our second Shabbos together. Kol Hakavod!

INTERESTING INTERVIEWS @ CAMP MORASHA

Featuring: Dovie Neuberger

Position: Assistant Head of Boys Sports and Special Advisor to the Director on programming affairs

Q1: How long have you been at Morasha?

A: This is my 4th summer at Morasha.

Q2: What is your favorite part of camp?

The Salad Bar.

Q3: What is something about the Morasha administration that only you know ?

A: Most of Jeremy Jozsef's outfits never get worn.

Q4: If you were making a movie about Morasha, what would be the title?

A: 90210 Lake Como

Q5: What do you fear most and why?

A: In his address to the USC graduating class of 2017 Will Ferrell said: "You're never not afraid. But my fear of failure never approached in magnitude my fear of what if. What if I never tried at all?" Its an incredible idea. I think I'll always be motivated by fear. I try to keep the fear of not having accomplished something I could have accomplished stronger than the fear of altogether failing."

Q6: Fun fact?

A: I'm a crisis hotline counselor.

CAMP MORASHA

True or False?

1. Camp Morasha is planning to replace the Sulam Israel program with a five week trip to Walmart.
2. For security purposes, when Jeremy Jozsef checks into a hotel, he sometimes uses the following alias: Pmac Ahsarom (which is Camp Morasha spelled backwards)
3. Tennis is the ultimate activity in Morasha.
4. Everyone on baking staff can Beat Bobby Flay.
5. Dave Friedman was never a child. He went straight from being an infant to becoming Head of Boys Campus.
6. Over the years, the Morasha Infirmary has dealt with the following illnesses: home sickness, home sickness by proxy, canteen-related bloating, a sprained ego, a bruised attitude, a broken heart and Color War Breakout phobia.

ANSWERS:

1. False, but some may still sign up.
2. Sorry, the answer is strictly confidential and divulging it would be counterproductive to maintaining Jeremy's security.
3. So true that it hurts, or at least that's what Tennis Staff chooses to believe.
4. There's only one way to find out!
5. False, but some say Dave was born for the job.
6. Again sorry, but medical information is private and confidential. And there is no such thing as Color War Breakout Phobia, just like there is no such thing as Shiria Disease.
