What an amazing start to the Camp Morasha 2025! The energy was electric as buses rolled in on Tuesday and campers were greeted by smiling counselors, staff, and division heads eager to kick off another unforgettable summer. The ruach was off the charts from the very first moment.

Tuesday night's Opening Ceremony set the tone with an incredible show of Morasha spirit. Each division head was introduced to roaring cheers from their campers, and the excitement in the air was impossible to miss. It was loud, it was proud, and it was just the beginning.

Wednesday launched our full schedule of activities, including the brand-new ATV Adventure Course and expanded Wibits at the waterfronts! From sports leagues to art projects to epic lake fun, our first full day was packed with energy, smiles, and sunshine.

Then came Thursday's surprise storm, which couldn't dampen our Morasha spirit! Our July 4th celebration was quickly moved to the dining room, where the pie-eating contest, mechanical bull, and red, white and blue decorations made it a party to remember. The night ended with a stunning fireworks show lighting up the sky—because at Morasha, we always find a way to celebrate in style.

It's only been three days, and already campers are making memories, forming friendships, and diving headfirst into all the excitement camp has to offer. We can't wait to see what next week brings—because at Morasha, every day is an adventure!

PARASHA THOUGHTS

Zach Beer, Nitzi Boys Chinuch Head

Immediately following the mitzvah of Parah Adumah, the Torah records the death of Miriam, Moshe's sister. Rashi states that the Torah places these two things next to each other because just like korbanot, or sacrifices (like the Parah Adumah) cause people's sins to be forgiven, the deaths of Tzadikim, righteous people, also does. But what is the specific connection between Parah Adumah and the death of Tzadikim, as opposed to korbanot in general? Why here, as opposed to by any other korban?

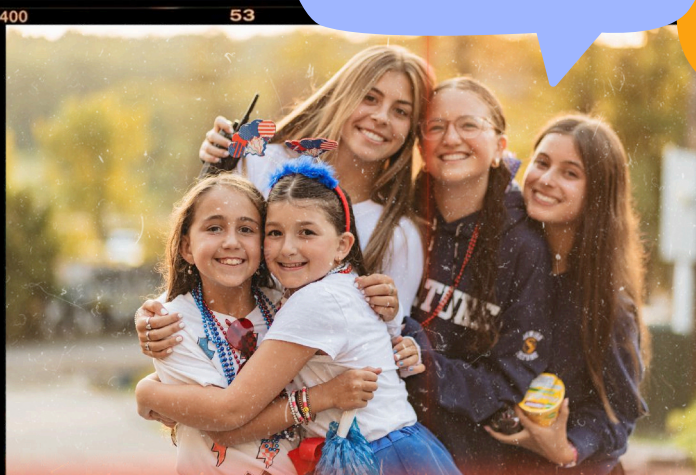

The Knesset Rishonim claims that it is because Tzadikim and the Parah Adumah share something important in common: The Parah Adumah famously makes people who are impure from a dead body pure, but it also causes the person who sprinkles its ashes to become impure despite the fact that they are purifying people. Similarly, truly righteous people go into the world and "impurify" themselves by helping and guiding others, even at the cost of their own "pure" spiritual experience.

As we start this summer, we should try and do the same. When we are dealing with a difficult bunkmate or a frustrating situation, we can try our best to see the good, even if it is hard for us. And if we see a friend, or even someone who isn't our friend yet, who is having a hard time, we should try and be the good, even if we feel like it might come at the cost of our fun and enjoyment, just like the great Tzadikim of our past would do.

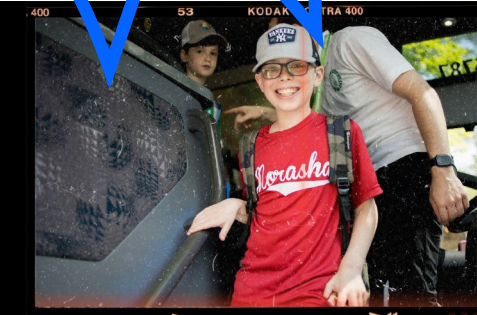

(Based on an idea from my rebbe, Rav Assaf Bednarsh)

SEE THE GOOD.

BE THE GOOD.
